

Owen Corey

Director Transport Safety and Logistics ANZ

Owen is a strategically minded, commercially astute and results driven workplace health and safety professional. A WHS professional with National and International experience across all aspects of safety, return to work and cultural change and is widely considered as one of Australia's leading experts in safety, health and wellbeing. Owen's background includes working in Executive and senior leadership positions with ASX Top 50 organisations and large companies including Woolworths, Linfox, Serco, CS Energy, Versacold and Coles.

Owen is genuinely passionate about the health, safety and wellbeing of people and is committed to helping organisations improve key elements of their business by transforming cultures, enhancing organisational performance, and ultimately achieving a safe work environment.

As an effective influencer with experience in behavioural safety, throughout his career Owen has managed a variety of portfolios within the safety field including Workplace Health and Safety, Wellbeing, Psychological Services, Workers Compensation, Environment and Training. This experience has been gained across a variety of industries including high risk, unionised and multi-sites within the public and private sectors.

Owen's key strengths and achievements include:

- Fostering a culture of continuous improvement by streamlining and simplifying systems and processes to eliminate waste and minimise bureaucracy
- Administer plans and strategies which contain clear and measurable objectives, in line with the overall goals of the business
- Preparation of high-level correspondence to clients, reports, funding applications, submissions and the annual budget and workplan
- Identify, develop and implement strategies to diversify the company's revenue base, including engaging and partnering with government, philanthropic, business, research, consultants, subcontractors and industry stakeholders
- Implement human resource management functions, including recruitment, selection, induction, staff development and engagement, performance management, retention and succession planning.
- Provide advice and recommendations to management on a wide range of issues relating to work health and safety service delivery, operational work health and safety issues, policy, legislation and training.
- Develop and implement strategic plans for Safety, Return to Work (RTW) and Psychological Services.
- In recent years Owen has successfully lead improvements with businesses in developing their knowledge of the Heavy Vehicle National Law and has been recognised as a trusted advisor to organisations differing in size from tier 1 to an owner operator.

Throughout his career Owen has developed excellent communication, negotiation and influencing skills with an ability to form networks and great working relationships within an immediate team, wider organisation and with external stakeholders.
