

Eric Hunter

Senior Consultant

Eric is an experienced health and safety professional with over 25 years' working as an Executive Safety and HSEC Manager, Coach, Mentor, Consultant and Presenter. He has worked for organisations such as BHP Billiton, UGL, Tenix and Transport for NSW.

Eric is naturally aligned with HSE Global as he has a passion for high performance and great leadership, possessing strong coaching and motivational skills, having previously served as the National Australian Coach for Triathlon.

Eric has provided Safety Leadership training to management at all levels and served as a Coach / Mentor and Safety and Leadership Coach for numerous organisations.

As well as having a strong technical and systems background, one of Eric's greatest attributes is the ability to build genuine and trusting relationships with clients, employees, and contractors at all levels, bridging the gap between management and "operators."

This is a significant contributor to his ability to obtain genuine "buy-in" when explaining difficult and / or "hard to accept" concepts.

Eric's overall experience and knowledge, combined with an exceptional ability to work with, influence and get the best out of people at all levels, is key to the positive outcomes achieved.
